

David Mowat

Dr. David Mowat is the Senior Scientific Lead, Prevention, at the Canadian Partnership against Cancer. He has served as Medical Officer of Health in Kingston and in Peel Region, as Chief Medical Officer of Health of Ontario, and as Deputy Chief Public Health Officer at the Public Health Agency of Canada. His main professional interests lie in the areas of workforce development, evidence-informed decision making, chronic disease prevention, and the built environment. Dr. Mowat graduated in Medicine at the University of Edinburgh, and in Public Health at Berkeley, California. He completed specialty training at the University of Toronto. He is an adjunct professor at Queen's University and the University of Toronto.