The Burton W. Marsh Distinguished Service Award recognizes an individual who has contributed to the advancement of the Institute of Transportation over a period of years in an outstanding fashion. Ken was selected for the Marsh Award for his sustained leadership to ITE and the profession. Ken has been an active contributor to ITE for decades and has continued to take on important responsibilities long after having served as International President in 2009. Most recently, he was a major contributor to ITE efforts to establish a new strategic plan for 2018–2020. His experience on large, complex corridor management projects ranging from capacity improvements to intelligent transportation systems (ITS) applications, along with his common-sense approach to traffic management, provides insight into solving clients’ traffic problems.

Theodore M. Matson contributed greatly to the traveling public through the advancement of traffic engineering and the training of professionals. Beverly continues this tradition by distinguishing herself in the practice of traffic engineering by conducting and leading valuable research and adapting those research findings to improve traffic operations in the field. She has made significant contributions in the areas of active transportation, demand management, active traffic management, managed lanes, traffic operations, intelligent transportation systems, human factors, traffic control devices, and sign visibility. She co-led groundbreaking and comprehensive research in the area of managed lanes for the Texas Department of Transportation, which is considered the premiere guidance for special use lanes. She also led the development of cross-cutting studies and primers on incorporating managed lanes into the planning and project development processes, identified the state-of-the-practice on managed lanes signing, developed a motorist task analysis, and recommended revisions to the Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices related to managed lanes signing, and developed a 10-year program plan for the Federal Highway Administration to address research gaps in the managed lanes arena, particularly as they relate to signing and traveler information.
