The ONE ITE Sub Task Force working on the creation of a new district in the West will be gathering together for a work session February 22. The group of more than two dozen members will be reviewing substantial materials provided by the Western District, members, and background from other ITE districts. These materials will be summarized into critical questions that the group will work on together and use as a basis for developing a transition plan for the International Board. The road map includes finalizing recommendations to the Board in April for their consideration at their May meeting. One of the benefits of this work has been the overview of ITE District operations - how they utilize (or do not utilize) committees, approaches to delegation of tasks collaboratively with sections, section representation on District Boards, prioritization of resources/budgets, and relationships between attendance at District Annual Meetings and membership numbers. All of this information is also being shared with our District leadership. If anyone has questions about the creation of the new district or the Sub Task Force's work, please feel free to contact Randy McCourt at rsm@dksassociates.com.
